Narberth Still In Tie For 2nd Place In League

Is Beaten in Close Game by Berwyn

Narberth, Pa., Aug. 5th, 1922.—On Saturday Narberth lost the hardest fought game ever staged on Sullivan Field, to Berwyn, who took Narberth into camp by a score of 4-2. Berwyn bunched three bunts in a row off Durbin and J. Higgins cleared the bases with a long double. Berwyn's other run was a circuit clout by Kirk, one of the longest ever made on the field. Narberth made seventeen hits off Paist, but could only score two runs. A feature was a wonderful one hand catch made by Fitzgerald, which saved the game for Berwyn.

ANOTHER VICTORY

Narberth added another to its long list of twilight victories on Tuesday evening when they slipped the K. O. to the U. S. Marine team from League Island by the score of 7 to 5. The game developed into a see-saw affair with first one team holding the edge then the other.

Hood took up the twirling duty for Narberth and had the situation well in hand at all times. Scanlon, the Marine pitcher, was the only one to solve Hood's delivery to any great extent. He connected for two homers and a single. Both his circuit clouts were terrific hits; the first one settling in the weeds in right and the second displaced some water in the creek in left. Harvey Humphries stood out for Narberth with the "stick," getting three good clean hits, and was responsible for three of Narberth's runs. In the fifth Heckel leaned on one of Scanlon's shoots for a four sacker with two men on, clinching the game. Heckel's homer was also a healthy wallop, dropping deep in the weeds in left.

Narberth entered the run column in the first inning when Dickie first up drew a pass. Davis then forced Dickie at second, but H. Humphries came through with a double, scoring Davis. In the third H. Humphries singled, stole second and scored on Burns' two base blow to right. Narberth put across another marker in the fourth when B. Humphries singled, stole second, and scored when Ensinger singled to right. Dickie opened the big fifth with a single to left. Davis again forced Dickie at second. H. Humphries

Scrub Teams Still in Limelight

Amateur Baseball Drives Good Crowds

The Narberth Independents defeated the All Star team on Monday evening by the score of 6 to 4 in ten innings. Both team played like veterans with snappy fielding on both sides. W. Humphries' pitching was of very high order, striking out ten men and not issuing a pass. Ensinger also pitched excellently up to the tenth inning when the Independents touched him for four hits and three runs.

The All Stars started scoring in the third inning on a two base hit by L. Jenkins and he scored when W. Humphries threw wild to second. The All Stars put across two more in the fifth when L. Jenkins singled and B. Dickie was safe on Connelly's muff of his long fly. Both men scored on B. Humphries double to deep left. The Independents started their scoring in the eighth on a single by W. Humphries, a pass to Anderson and a wild pitch. In the ninth they put across two more, tying the score on Ricklin's single, a pass to W. Humphries and Haist's muff of Smedley's long fly. In the tenth Ward opened by slashing a double to left. J. Dickie also sent a double to the same territory scoring Ward. McKinney then singled, Dickie stopping at third. Both men scored on Ricklin's double down the left field foul line, ending the game.

Excellent Progress Being Made in Paving Narberth's Undedicated Streets

Newest Improved Section Will be Begun in a Short Time. Interest being Shown in Street before School.

One of Narberth's most important problems is that of highway construction and maintenance. A large part of our tax money goes to the repair and upkeep of our streets, and every resident is vitally interested in their condition.

For these reasons, many taxpayers are watching with interest the steps now being taken to pave and dedicate parts of the unimproved highways of the Borough. These improvements must be made entirely by the owners of the properties abutting the unimproved streets, as the law prohibits the Borough from accepting unfinished highways.

A Big Improvement

One of the largest, and most interesting moves for road improvement is that embodied in a petition sent to Council at the last meeting. This document is signed by forty property owners on land lying along a large part of Conway, Price and Stewart Avenues.

In order to have an undedicated street paved, it is necessary that property owners representing at least three-fifths of the abutting property sign a petition to have the paving done. This is presented to Council, and the Borough secures the necessary bids, and proceeds to do the paving according to its standard specifications. The entire cost of this is borne by the owners of the adjacent properties, in a ratio as the relative front footage of their holdings. If at least three-fifths have signed the petition, then all the owners are equally liable, whether or not they have signed. If the assessment is not paid, a lien may be placed on the property in question.

This proceeding has so far been followed by the owners of the property on the streets referred to above. The petition requests the paving of (A), Stewart Avenue, from the west side of Dudley to the west side of Conway; (B), Conway, from the north side of Windsor to the north side of Price; and (C), Price, from the west side of Essex to the west side of Conway.

This large piece of highway is of considerable importance, as it not only is adjacent to the improved and attractive Narbrook Park, but runs through a closely built-up area of comparatively new houses. Price avenue, in that section which runs by the Methodist Church, has long been an eyesore, and because of the steep grade, a difficult place to keep from washing out in every heavy storm. Conway avenue is virtually impassable in places. Stewart is a short, but important connecting street between Conway and Dudley.

Preparations

Council has already instructed Street Commissioner Suplee to secure bids in preparation for the actual beginning of the work of paving this large section. At the same time, notices will be sent, requesting the property owners to install correct gutters, curbs and pavements. When the entire project is completed, the streets will be offered to the Borough for dedication, and a big hole will have been made in the unimproved highways of Narberth.

An Oasis

Another district in which some progress has been made, and which should be properly completed without delay, is that section which includes the northern end of Forrest Avenue, and Woodbine avenue from Essex to Narberth. This space has for years been a veritable mudhole, which condition has been aggravated by the fact that houses have been constructed on nearly all of the adjacent lots.

A short time ago Mr. W. D. Smedley paved that part of the street lying in front of his properties, and the properties he had sold. The paving, as now completed, leaves a gap of about 100 feet between the present dedicated part of Forrest avenue and the new paving, and also leaves unpaved both ends of Woodbine avenue. The result is, that this street, in the very heart of the Borough, is in wretched condition. Mr. Smedley has paved the part of it in which he is interested, but no move has been made by the other property owners to cooperate. There are two property owners at each end of this part of Woodbine avenue. This unpaved part represents, altogether, less than the part which has been improved. The street, in its present state, has neither entrance nor exit, and stands as a reproach, which can, and should be removed.

Sabine Avenue

Another stretch which has long been in great need of completion is Sabine avenue, from Essex to Montgomery avenues. Here is a stretch of road, before the front entrance of Narberth's only public buildings, which should certainly be paved and dedicated. The procedure for this would be the same as for the other streets, with one slight exception. The School Board has control of the entire North side of that street, and there are about a dozen property owners on the other side. A number of these owners have been approached in the matter, and have expressed their willingness to back up a move to place the street in shape. It will, therefore, be necessary for few signatures in addition to that of the Board to be obtained, as the latter controls a large part of the three-fifths abutting property interests necessary to carry the petition.

There is considerable interest now in the matter, and it is said that a petition will be circulated among the Sabine avenue owners in the near future with a view to having this important street paved. There comes up here, however, a complication which might cause greater or less delay in the actual performance of the work.

The School authorities would not be called upon to bear the expense of this, a public improvement. The expense, instead of the one-half represented by their interests would be defrayed by the Borough itself. Councilmen state, however, that at the present time, finances would not permit them to push the matter. A small bond issue, or a delay, it is said, will be inevitable. There is small doubt, though, that the matter of having the petition signed, and placed in Council's hands, will be taken up very shortly, so that actual progress will rest on the promptness with which Council can co-operate.

Narbrook Road, in the Park, is another street which is not dedicated to the Borough. As the construction is not in conformity with Borough specifications, Council does not feel justified in taking this road over. For this reason, though paved, it is still a private road.

Real Progress

But a great deal of progress has been made in matters of street improvements. A very few years ago, a person sitting in the back of an automobile, blindfolded, could tell when they arrived at Narberth, by one big bump and a steady series of jolts and jars. The excellent paving, in concrete,

A CONSTANT DANGER

There are a number of corners in Narberth which constantly threaten the life and limb of the motorist. These are the blind turnings where the view is restricted by overhanging hedges and shrubbery.

Corners are in many places rendered dangerous by the nearness of buildings to the edge of properties, but this condition is, of course, irremediable. The matter of shrubbery, however, is at the same time unnecessary, and easy of correction.

A few of these dangerous corners are Narberth and Woodside, Haverford and Montgomery, Iona and Haverford, Narberth and Merion. At Narberth and Woodside, there is the added danger of a steep grade, which makes it exceedingly difficult for cars to slow down sufficiently to be under perfect control with the brief warning possible.

High hedges and shrubbery grouped at corners should be so trimmed and kept down as to allow free vision to motorists on both intersecting highways. The matter is not one which can be remedied by law, but is purely a question of one person's regard for the life and safety of another.

There are many other corners than the examples mentioned above. If property owners will make an inspection of the corners of their yards, a serious accident may be avoided.

ROAST PORK

From the "Philadelphia Public Ledger"

He plumped into a seat of a Main Line Electric train, used half of the space for his hat and some papers, and then, stretching out comfortably, crossed his legs, leaving one foot protrude into the aisle. Ladies and gentlemen passing through the car had to be careful in passing to avoid having their clothes soiled by coming in contact with the sole of his shoe. When any one looked at him reproachfully he scowled.

He was only one of a dozen or two on that train who not only hogged a whole seat, but who stuck his foot into the aisle to the annoyance of all who had to pass.

The Main Line of the Pennsylvania between Overbrook and Paoli is one of the most beautiful suburban sections of the world. Most of the persons living in this charming stretch of country are gentlemen and gentlewomen. A person of gentility is considerate of others. A selfish or boorish person is not. A person of refinement keeps his feet on the floor in a public conveyance. He doesn't put them on the seat in front or on the frame of the seat or stick a foot out into the aisle or "hog" two seat spaces.

The comparatively few hogs on the Main Line make travel unpleasant for many persons. Of course, they must know they are hogs, but why are they so persistent in advertising the fact?

Placidly and patiently criticism from the facile pen of Richard Spillane claims our attention. And we hasten with the utmost pride to pass to the pages of the press for his edification and information the fact that the one twelfth gross or perchance one sixth gross of hogs so notoriously and punctually depicted, were none dwellers within the confines of the Borough of Narberth. Which we note and hereby do prove.

Apparently, it is quite impossible for any Narberthite to sit with crossed legs in a Main Line Electric train. Our delightful citizens of both sexes are all so well nourished that the space between seats wouldn't permit of their performing such feats of contortion.

Secondly, even if they could protrude their feet into the aisle, they would not. Mainly from the point of pride, Narberth shoes are generally well and honestly worn. As a consequence thereof, their conservative wearers are well known they would be the last of the world to display the windows of their sides to the ill and scornful gaze of Meriondars, Ardmoreans, or perchance Rosenbergs, knowing full well how dwellers, then at, thereon, and thereabout judge by externals.

Finally, Narberthites do not scowl. They cannot. They are so happy in their tiny little homes, all paid for, garaged, kiddied, hedged, lawned, flower bedded and awinged that no reason exists for them to scowl. Furthermore they are all such ardent devotees of the side-splitting humor contained in The Tower of Babbble which forces part of their own home town weekly paper that any remote cause for the possible exercising of those sixty-four muscles necessary to bring about a scowl is driven so far away each Saturday morning that it never returns.

To sum it all up, Narberthites are "persons of gentility" and therefore "considerate of others." Furthermore, each Narberthite is "a person of refinement" and keeps his or her feet on the floor in a public conveyance. And that ends it. We are exonerated.

But in view of the fact that the worthy Spillane has brought up this horrid subject, everyone agrees that our Citizens must be protected from the ill manners of these other Main Liners who dwell before or beyond the Borough of Homes. As a means of procuring for us such immunity we hereby adjure Council to appoint a Committee for the insurance of Citizens Against the Encroachment of Live Stock, the first duty of which will be to approach the Most High Officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad and urge that not more nor less than one only cattle car be attached to, coupled with, and made a part of each and every Main Line train, be it express or local, to the contrary notwithstanding travelling between Broad Street Station and Paoli in either direction. And that such attachment or coupling be made operative not later than the twenty-fifth day of August in the year of Our Lord Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-two. Amen and Amen.

THE TOWER OF BABBLE

By Collum Righter

The next item on the Docket of Progression is the reconstruction of the Esteemed Essex Avenue Tunnel Project. In which connection we can be an unrivalled auxiliary. We are vouchsafed for by some Narberthites as being the most expert here in town.

Also that it is about as reassuring a thing. For did not Hon. Roscoe Nash recently broadcast that proud fact through the advertising columns of our contemporaneous Phila. Pub. Led. that Narberth was the second largest Converter Supply Source along the Main Line of Citizen Wentz's electrified Advertising System known to the less fortunate as the famous but now no longer "Steamed" Penna. Rail R. If Narberth is thus definitely established as the second, may we venture the query whether Broad Street Station be the first? (Does any Narberthian answer?)

That reminds us. Why did Citizen Wentz acquiesce to the tacking of that extra nickle onto the special August excursions from A. City? We know one party who refused to be enticed of one add tacked. Haddonfield model of currency over and above a denance of dollars. And the party was us. Had it not even two cents we'd have bought one of Hon. Davis's Shade Grown Hemp Perpetuities to burn on the way down. Thereby exercising our sporting proclivities again to the utmost, and in serbation. Last time we made the trip we smoked one. The "Steamed Engineer" got the wind of it at Haddonfield and stopped his train to search for a hot box. When he discovered same to be naught else than us smoking, the crew put us off at Haddonfield, mind you. Of all places. Mark Twain surely learned the tack. What this country needs is a rattling good five cent cigar.

That experience was almost about not quite as bad as being ushered out of a Pullman at Pleasantville around 2 A. M. to attend a golf match next day. Such would never happen to us though. It couldn't on two counts. We don't ride in Pullmans and we don't attend golf matches. We may get in the class of the spigot magnates some day, but it's a long ways off a long ways off. Till then, why, we'll just simply travel with the herd.

One of our worthy Narberthites has had good luck with his truck patch and no mistake. Accumulated a sun stroke pulling beets and just collected two hundred bones on his Health Insurance Policy. Now his wife pulls the beets. Beauty and the beets as it were. Hey, what!

Not so long since, a near-local advertiser of financial opportunities expressed how much he was worried by the tight condition of the Money Market. Neighbor-like, we sympathized with him. Without warmth though. Without Warmth. We aren't perturbed in the least by the tightness of the Money Market. But we do wish the consumed Market Money would loosen up a bit.

The licensed Town Vawper tried to tell us that a certain Hon. M. D. was neglecting his business for Golf. We immediately went to the mat with him—made him eat his "woids"—refuted his statement—nail it to the masthead and otherwise brand it as a lam die. On t'other hand, what if the Hon. M. D. did neglect his biz for Golf? It's his own isn't it? And what's the use of having a business of your own if you can't neglect it once in a while?

HIS REASONABLE REQUEST

Two men were sentenced by a self-appointed court to be hanged for horse-stealing. The place selected for the execution was the middle of a bridge spanning a river.

The first horse was tied insecurely and the prisoner dropped into the river, swam ashore and escaped.

As the second horse was being adjusted, the remaining culprit drawled out: "Say, fellows, make sure of the knot. I can't swim."

Please renew subscription promptly.

OUR TOWN

BOOKS AND MAGAZINES

Glimpses of the Moon, by Mrs. Edith Wharton.

Here we have the best of living American novelists at the best in her art, with splendid narrative, stirring plot, forceful style and most interesting material. All her characters enjoy the moral physical freedom that money gives, save two, the pair of lovers, who while belonging to that group, revolt in spirit against its philosophy. The justification for depicting the life of irresponsibility and immorality which the hero and heroine share is found in their rebellion against it and their gradual perception of the deeper significance of the marriage tie.

Books and Characters. By Lytton Strachey.

This is a group of biographical and literary essays by the author of Queen Victoria and this remark alone should recommend it. We are forced to admit that many of the characters analysed require frequent reference to the encyclopedia for enlightenment, but as fascinating as any romance are most of the essays, especially the one on Lady Hester Stanhope, that rejected flirt with the "Pitt Nose" whose unprecedented entry into Damascus unveiled and in made Turkish attire led to such astounding results.

Magazines

Not every one realizes that we have a magazine table in the west alcove, and yet on it every week are many of the newest magazines contributed by friends of the library. Several of the women's magazines, as the "Ladies' Home Journal" and "Woman's Home Companion," are found there, the Saturday Evening Post, the Literary Review of the New York Evening Post, "Asia and the House Beautiful," as well as occasional copies of "The New Republic" and "The Dial." We have recently repaired the drop lights and we are convinced that there is sufficient light to accommodate all who might wish to avail themselves of the privileges of the reading table. Stop a moment and try it after you have selected your week-end supply of books.

connected for his third successive hit, a single, Davis taking second. It was at this point that Hecker stepped into a fast one and cleared the paths. Narberth scored their last run in the sixth when Eusinger beat out a hit to Horner and scored on Dickie's triple to center.

The Marines put across their first counter in the first inning on hits by Petry and Steelman. They added another in the second on Scanlon's home run. Hood blanked them in the third and fourth, but in the fifth they tallied twice. Scanlon scored their last run in the eighth on his second circuit clout. The game was called at this time on account of darkness.

of Wynnewood and Haverford avenues perfected two main approaches to the Borough, and the great care which has been used in the resurfacing of the other streets has given Narberth an exceptional series of smooth surfaced, and economically maintained highways.

Much credit for the present satisfactory condition of our streets is due Mr. George B. Suplee, who, as Street Commissioner, has given unstintingly of his time and interest in a difficult and important position.

And in addition to the actual street surfaces, the Borough now has a splendid series of pavements. The responses to the large number of notices served this spring was immediate and cheerful, and there has been a constant series of improvements and replacements in the pavements and curbs.

Narberth folks can look with pride on our highways. Twelve of the nineteen miles in the Borough are paved, and the distance is constantly growing. The problem is one facing the individual. It must be met sooner or later by each property owner affected. Our citizens are watching with deep interest the progress made.
